Dear Small Group Facilitators,

Below, please find the links for small group content through Sunday October 9th. Please respond to this email with the meeting date, time, and location of your small group. I need to keep this up to date, because we often have people wanting to join groups. I will let you know if you have a new person coming, but there have been several times that the meeting time/date/location has changed. Also, please remember to invite your group to the food packing event on Saturday, September 17. It is a great way for you all to have some good social/community building time together.
